Samannoy 2019, déjà vu for GNIT alumni, the days of passion, toils and glory with every passing frame moistening their eyes and then with uncontrollable happiness they braced the Homecoming on 16 February 2019. The event was ceremonially inaugurated by Prof. (Dr.) Santanu Kumar Sen, Principal, GNIT and was graced by senior professors and teachers.

With more than 125 alumni present, GNIT became a platform of acculturation between the students and their alma mater. It also opened a new horizon of interaction and networking between them paving way for future collaboration.

GNIT-ians working around the globe stayed till wee hours of night over Skype to interact live with friends such as Debadeep Panikhal from USA, working in Ford, Michigan on system development and data science.

Bipasa Banerjee from Wynn University, USA was extremely excited as she spoke to her friends and teachers at length.

Prayani Singh from Carolina State University was delighted to join over Skype and Soumyo Gupta presently working with the Deutsche Börse Group, Germany thoroughly enjoyed as they talked at length.

Major. Sombrata Saha, Indian Army, was enthralled to interact with the audience via Skype from the remote terrains of the North east and re-lived days at GNIT.

GNIT presented an engrossing cultural extravaganza which rattled the audience as they tapped foot while merry making and many of the alumni took the lead.

These young leaders and entrepreneurs thoroughly enjoyed the grand lunch as they walked the talk. GNIT from the core of its' heart showered love on all with the event ending with distribution of token gift promising to continue with this indelible relationship and making way to collaborative growth and expanding the GNIT Community around the world.
